Sir:—

Upon making the stipulated daily shipment of 50,000 Standard Dollars to Treasury U.S. this morning, I found two pieces lying loose on the bottom of the vault. They were of the Coinage of 1884, and probably belong to the first shipment on cp of I.O. #12473, 20th inst.

I will thank you to advise Washington of the discovery of these pieces. Should the Treasury verify the shipments he may have found some bag short. There was one ruptured bag in the first day's shipment, but we exchanged it next day. It is possible

Upon making the stipulated daily shipment of 50,000 Standard Dollars to Treasurer U.S. this morning, I found two pieces lying loose on the bottom of the vault. They were of the coinage of 1884, and probably belong to the first shipment made of T.O. #12473, 20th inst.

I will thank you to advise Washington of the discovery of these pieces. Should the Treasurer verify the shipments he may have found some bag short. There was one ruptured bag in the first day's shipment, but we exchanged it next day. It is possible therefore, that these stray pieces belong to shipment of Jan. 21 inst.

Very Respectfully,
